Read the story:"The Wolf and the Lamb"Once upon a time, there lived a wolf in a thick forest near a stream. Sheep, goats and cows from a village nearby came to the stream to drink water. The wolf was a lazy and cunning animal. One hot day he was thirsty and so he came to the stream to drink water. He looked down and saw a lamb drinking water from the stream. He was happy and wanted to eat the lamb. A wicked idea came to his mind. He tried to make the lamb frightened. He shouted at the lamb, "You foolish lamb, why are you making the water dirty ? Can't you drink without your legs in the water ?" The lamb looked up and saw the wolf. But he was not frightened. He was a brave lamb. He replied politely, "But Sir, you are wrong. The water is flowing from where you are standing to where I am standing. How can I make your water dirty?" The wolf did not find an answer. But he did not give up. He said, "Six months ago you called me stupid, now you have to say sorry."The lamb replied politely again, "But Sir, I'm only three months old." The wolf had no answer and went away sadly.Now, read the story again. There are some describing words in the story. Work in pairs. Underline the words and write them on the board.
