No issues with the app or programs, the recipes are also really good. Look out for the Instagram promotions because they offer massive discounts on the different programs. Tried it out but I guess the fitness aspect and home workout element just isn't for me. No risk, buy a program and give it a try, if it doesn't work out for you then you can get a guaranteed full refund. I wasn't able to stay motivated so I asked for a refund and the full amount was returned to me within a few days. Having set workouts with videos and a meal plan is what I needed. Also the 2-3 emails I have received a day so far reminding me I paid good money is also a plus, makes you feel bad if you decide you don't feel like working out. And that's a great motivator!Thanks to everyone involved I recently purchased the FLE program and was charged extra for the diet plan. I wrote to them and the quickly refunded the diet plan. A few weeks later I found out that I can't do the program at the moment and asked for a refund which is completely within the time frame. It has been weeks and they keep saying the money is not going through and that my bank is not accepting it. I'm very frustrated to say the least. They keep saying they will process it but it's been nearly 3 weeks now. The developer, V Shred LLC, indicated that the app's privacy practices may include handling of data as described below.
